INTRODUCTION.

In presenting this, our first Directory to the citizens and business men of Alton City, Upper and North Alton, we feel a justifiable pride in being able to furnish such a handsome and reliable book. In the pursuit of this result, information has been sought, by competent and reliable men from the best available sources, and every endeavor has been made to secure accuracy.

It is therefore believed that the information, statements and statistics contained in the book are, in every instance, as nearly correct as careful scrutiny could render them. By a careful calculation we find the population of Alton to be 15,065, and Upper and North Alton make it 17,000.

Trusting that the utility of the book may be regarded as sufficient to compensate for whatever may be its shortcomings, the publishers leaves its merits to be judged by the discriminating public.

DEDICATION.

City of Alton, Ill.

HISTORICAL AND BUSINESS REVIEW.

ITS RESOURCES—COMMERCIAL AND MANUFACTURING FACILITIES.

The City of Alton, Madison County, Illinois, ancient city, yet a modern city in growth and progress; an historic city, yet fully alive to all demands of the present age. A city of old associations, and at the same time with all the new ideas of human advancement. The city is situated on the east bank of the great Mississippi River, 25 miles almost due north from St. Louis Mo.; 75 miles south of Springfield, the State Capitol, 260 miles from Chicago, and about four miles above the mouth of the Missouri River, in about latitude north 38 deg. 20 min., and longitude 14 deg. from Washington. The city was first laid out in the year 1818 upon fractional sections 11, 13 and 14, in township 5, north of range 10, west.

The river bluffs at this point rise abruptly to the height of some 225 feet above the low water mark, and nearly 450 feet above the level of the sea. The only part of the entire Mississippi River which has its course for any distance from west to east or east to west, is that part of it upon which Alton fronts. In the front of the entire length of the corporate limits, which is about two miles, the river pursues an almost due course from west to east.

To form the great "American Bottom," the high bluffs here recede from the river, and do not again (on the Illinois side) approach it running south for over one hundred miles, the bottom varying in width from three to ten miles, forming a belt of low land never equaled in fertility by the famed valleys of the Nile.

The traveler approaching the city by steamboat from the South is struck with its singularly beautiful and picturesque location. From a point opposite or immediately below the mouth of the Missouri River can be obtained the best view of the city, and from that point all pronounce it one of the finest views ever witnessed. In approaching it by boat or rail from the north the high bluffs prevents the stranger from having any view whatever until that point is turned when he at once finds himself directly at the levee and in almost the heart of a thriving, bustling commercial city. The location of the city has been for years both severely condemned and highly commended. The site is very broken, requiring much discretion in planning proper grades, much excavation and filling after the grades are fixed, and consequently the expenditure of large sums of money by both the city in the improvement of the streets, and individuals in the improvement of their lots. But it must be admitted that as rough as it is, it is far preferable to level plain. Perfect drainage has been secured, rendering it one of the most healthy places on the continent, and since it has been built up its beautiful improved undulations possess a charm to the eye which no level site can ever give.

In the year 1807 it is said that there was but one small stone building on the site where Alton now stands. Litigation kept the city from improving from the years 1818 to 1829. The matter was compromised by a division of the land among the litigants. From that date to 1837 the increase was rapid, and the population reached about 2,500. Then came the commercial crash of 1837, the pro-slavery riot, etc., which caused real estate to depreciate in value, large firms failed and went under. Alton did not improve much until 1842 when she resumed her normal state, and from that date to the present there has been a steady, healthy and constant growth.

The town of Alton was incorporated by the legislature Feb. 6th, 1833, and a charter making it a city was granted by the same body in July, four years later.

In 1860 Alton had a population of 6,332, in 1870 a population of 8,665, and in 1874 it had increased to not less than 10,000. In 1886 the population was 11,690, and by careful calculation the publishers find the population in 1889 to be 15,065, and with Upper and North Altons will increase it to over 17,000.

Although the three Altons are under separate local governments they are to all intents and purposes one city as they all connect. A street railway two and a half miles long connects Upper Alton, while macadamized and other good roads connect North Alton with Alton proper. The adjacent country is so densely populated that it is very hard to distinguish the town and country. The business houses are large handsome structures built of stone and brick, while the many costly and elegant mansions standing on the elevated plateaus speak of wealth and refinement.

All the main streets are paved and macadamized; there are within the city limits 22 miles of paved streets and 30 miles of sidewalks.

ACCESSIBILITY BY RIVER.

The river facilities Alton possesses is not surpassed by any city in the Union. Lying direct on the Mississippi it commands the navigation of the Father of Waters from the source to the mouth, and equally so that all its tributaries in the great valley of the Mississippi. Nearly opposite the city the Missouri pours its large body of water into the Mississippi, and offers a wealth of trade and traffic of its 2,000 miles of navigation. Eighteen miles above the Illinois, draining the fertile fields and prairies for over 300 miles, offers all its wealth to the energetic business men of Alton. Alton is a natural constituted port of entry, and an important landing point for all the packets on the Mississippi and Illinois Rivers, and furnishes them with a vast amount of freight of her own manufactures, such as blue and flint glass, agricultural implements, miners' tools, building stone, lime, cement, flour, corn, hay, potatoes, etc. Among the other river facilities is a steam ferry plying between Alton and the opposite Missouri shore, bringing her heavy cargoes of produce from the fertile Missouri valley.

RAILWAY FACILITIES.

In addition to Alton's unsurpassed river facilities its railroads are so complete as to bring it into direct communication with the whole country. It is on the main line of the Chicago and Alton railway and the Kansas City branch of that road. The Indianapolis & St. Louis railway furnish direct connection with St. Louis, Eastern and Southern Illinois. While the picturesque 'Bluff Line,' the St. Louis, Alton & Springfield, a new line recently built and put in operation, furnish direct communication with the State capitol and the northwestern part of the State. The Cleveland, St. Louis and Kansas City railway is a new line that is being rapidly constructed, and will cross the river at the foot of Henry street, where a large iron bridge will span the Mississippi. Work on this road is being rapidly pushed, and contracts for building the mammoth bridge has been let. This will open up direct communications with the great States of Kansas and North Missouri. It is but six miles from and in direct connection with the great Wabash system, while the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy passes through Upper Alton and furnishes direct communication with Quincy, Burlington and all points north. It will thus be seen that the facilities of inter-communication by rail and river cannot be surpassed.

JOURNALISTIC.

Alton has two daily (except Sunday) and four weekly newspapers: Alton Telegraph, daily and weekly; Sentinel-Democrat, daily and weekly; Alton Banner, (German) weekly; Herald, weekly, Upper Alton. Also a monthly educational journal, published at Shurtleff College called the College Review.

NATURAL RESOURCES.

In valuable natural resources Alton stands pre-eminent. Its great stone quarries produce immense quantities of lime stone, superior building stone, macadam and ballast.

Inexhaustible quantities of yellow clay, which makes excellent brick.

An unlimited supply of best river sand.

Extensive coal mines adjoin the city limits.

Alton lime, the finest and purest in the west.

Immense deposits of fire-brick clay are found in the immediate vicinity, which is manufactured into fire-brick, roofing tile, sewer-pipe, drain tile, pottery, etc.

Cement rock is found in vast quantities four miles above the city on the river bank.

White sand, used by the glass works, is found in the vicinity in immense deposits.

ECONOMY IN BUILDING.

Building material can be found in Alton of better quality and cheaper in price than at any other point in the State, and buildings of any desired style of architecture can be erected here far more economically than elsewhere in the West. (1) The best and purest lime in the State is manufactured here. (2) The best of river sand is furnish here within the city limits for the cost of hauling. (3) The best quality of brick found in the West, and susceptible of high finish, is made here. (4) The finest grades of building stone are quarried here of any desired dimensions. (5) Fire-brick, drain-tile, sewer-pipe, etc., are made at our home factories, and can be had free of freight charges. (6) Lumber, brought here by river from the pineries of Minnesota and Wisconsin, and furnished by our saw mills or planing mills in any required dimensions, can be provided here as cheap as any other city in the State can furnish it.

SANITARY CONDITIONS.

The sanitary conditions of Alton are so perfect, its drainage so complete, and its water supply so abundant, that the good health of its people is proverbial. Filth diseases are of very rare occurrence. The elevation of 240 feet above the river insures pure air and perfect drainage. The pressure from the water works permits the perfect cleansing of sewers. The number of deaths in Alton in 1880 was 113; in 1881, 146; in 1882, 104; in 1883, 133; in 1884, 141. Average death rate per thousand for the past five years, 13.07. The death rate of the United States is 15.10 per thousand; that of Illinois, 14.63, so that Alton's death rate is 1.56 per thousand less than that of the State.

BOARD OF TRADE OF THE CITY OF ALTON.

The object of this organization is for the promotion of the business and industrial interests of the city, the encouragement of all legitimate business enterprises, and the dissemination abroad of information respecting the natural resources and commercial advantages of the city of Alton, and its attractions as a place of residence.

EDUCATIONAL.

Alton can justly pride herself upon her educational facilities. These facilities are, in fact, unsurpassed by any city east or west, north or south. Families seeking new locations can only glance at our institutes of learning to convince them that Alton possesses advantages for popular education second to none. Almost immediately in her suburbs stands the famous Monticello Seminary, (unfortunately burned down in November, 1888, but is being rapidly rebuilt) an educational institute second to none in the State. At Upper Alton is located the Wyman Institute with its broad lawns and magnificent grounds, also the old established Shurtleff College, educational institutions that Alton can justly point to with pride. There is also located here the Ursuline Academy, an institution for the education of girls and young ladies. The Convent is a spacious and splendid edifice overlooking the river. This school is under the direction of the Sisters of the Convent. There are, however, a number of other schools under the direction of the Catholic and other Churches.

The City of Alton comprises a special school district by an act of the Legislature. The public schools are under the control of a Board of Education. The Board consists of five members who have jurisdiction over the public schools in the city. The schools are modeled after the latest and most approved educational standards, and are divided into Primary, Intermediate, Grammar and High School. There are six Public School buildings in the city.

The school system is excellent. People can obtain both a thorough, comprehensive common school training, and a very liberal collegiate education without removing from home. An advantage worthy of note.

XXXIII

A. F. FOSTER, Pres.
M. H. BOALS, Vice-Prest.
JOHN W. KOCH, Treas.
W. W. STICKNEY,
Sec'y & Gen'l Mgr.

Our List Prices for Sewer pipe are only about ONE-HALF those of other manufacturers of the same class of goods, and we still make a liberal discount from these prices, varying from 20 to 50 per cent., according to size of pipe—the larger discount being on the smaller sizes.

We also make a specialty of LARGE STONEWARE DRAIN TILE of superior quality, the same in fact, as first-class sewer pipe, the only difference being in the socket which the sewer pipes have and the drain tiles do not have.

Send for Catalogue Containing Price List and Much Useful Information.

We have lately added to our list several new sizes, including 30 inch pipe, which, so far as we know, is six inches larger in caliber and more than 50 per cent larger in capacity than is manufactured for the trade by any other concern in the United States.

When sizes and quantities wanted are specified, prices will be quoted on same, delivered at any station accessible by river or rail, if so desired, all freight and breakage to be charged back to us.

We do not ask our customers to depend upon windy talk or cheap testimonials for information relative to the actual value and quality of our goods, but let the goods speak for themselves and guarantee every shipment to be satisfactory on arrival at destination or no pay.

We want no man's money without giving a fair equivalent for it, believing this to be the only equitable basis of trade, and the foregoing guarantee places the enforcement of these conditions entirely in the hands of our customers.

Yours respectfully

Nugent's

OUR new store, when all attractions are made will be the biggest Dry Goods Store in the Great West.

What do you think of 108,000 square feet of floor space, fronting on three streets in the very heart of the business centre of the town?

We stay in the old store until the first of March—then, good-bye.

We want you to come and see us whenever here.
